Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and stores, and buildings to the erection of which in this city, the coming season, he will be engaged, and has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superintended the manufacture of his stock, so that he is now able to supply to those who are about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any desired dimensions and of superior quality, either for a single building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened to those having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their places in the dwelling-house.

This business has now become so well established that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rope Place, or at the store of S. Jackson, Exchange-st., and at either place any article may be obtained in large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and so well organized is the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods.

Wilbor's Compound of

Pure Cod Liver Oil and Lime,

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

TESTIMONIAL.

Let all read the following, which is but one of the many testimonials being constantly received:

Dr. Wilbor. Dear Sir—I have found in the course of a long and extensive practice, that the seeds of Consumption are by no means to be handled as starting from four individual causes, but that any serious draft upon the physical constitution may leave the sufferer in that precarious condition so well indicated above. Thus in fever, in severe colds, and in rheumatic affections, should there be weakness of the human frame, the lungs, being perhaps the closest and most sensitive complication of the human organization, are liable to be the principal sufferers; and the last lung, which is smaller than the right, is generally the principal seat of disease. Consumption consists of such an attempt of the system to throw off the morbid accumulation in the matter of inspiration is necessary to the air in and out of each cell of the chest. While the natural sustenance of the lungs continues, it is impossible to contract the disease known as consumption.

In a long series of long practice, I have found Cod Liver Oil a great and efficient agent. I chanced to see your notice of the article prepared by you, and known as Cod Liver Oil and Lime. I have carefully analyzed the ingredients of the combination. Being for years an experimental chemist, and well versed in the medical properties of the Lime, which you have employed in connection with the Oil, I accordingly applied your remedy, and in five months of constant practice, have found the result most astonishing. Cases in the last stage I have pronounced incurable, in all consumptive cases I now put Cod Liver Oil and Lime. I have found the medical qualities to be a healing and natural tonic, and that the ingredients materially the process of restoration of the blood cells of the lungs which have decayed from various causes. Moreover, I have, after a careful analysis of your preparation, satisfied myself that it supplies to the system immediately want of the physician, all regards a restorative agent, but also to sustenance, incontinently strengthening the rest of the system, and thus giving to a consumptive invalid just what is wanted, viz: the means for sustaining the body while the required cure is effected.

Having carefully tested your article to my entire satisfaction, in an enfeebled state, I do not hesitate to say to all consumptive invalids—Try Wilbor's Cod Liver Oil and Lime.

Muriate of Lime!

The high price of the natural manure, Guano, &c., first led to the consumption of a fertilizer which should combine all the good qualities, but whose price should place it within the reach of the cultivators of the soil. The increased demand of late season, together with the voluntary testimony of many who have tried it, proves the efficacy of the manufacturer to believe that the object has been attained in the Muriate of Lime, and induced him to extend the facilities for its manufacture. It has been tried upon almost every variety of soil, but is especially adapted to Cereal Plants, Grass, Corn, Wheat, &c.

A pamphlet with testimonials, will be furnished to any address, and all orders by mail, accompanied by the cash, punctually attended to. Baltimore, Jan. 8, 1856.

Messrs. C. & J. Marshall—Gentlemen. At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, for much as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) JOHN D. FAUDY & BRO.

BOSTON,

(Removed from Washington.)

The Corset Waterooms of Thirty Years

(established in 1825)

Also, the Inventor of

and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained.

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in rearranging and improving the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women; and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them LOIRETTES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders, and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in any thing of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and quality of texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exorbitant charges.

Mrs A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice told. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, or at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

On Friday the Executive removed Judge Davis thus performing a necessary and righteous act, and purging away in some small degree, the political iniquity of the Morrill administration the legislature The law passed on purpose to enable Gov Morrill to appoint Woodbury Davis a Judge, and to make his late Court to subserve his political purposes and those of his party, having been repealed by the present legislature, the number of the Judges has been reduced one —Democrat.

The Democrat thus justifies the removal of Judge Davis as a political act—in simply taking a Judge from the bench because he was opposed to the sham democrats in politics, and because his own political sentiments are opposed to the pro-slavery hunkerism of the times

That this was the real and only reason for the removal every intelligent man well knows, in fact, the gross and vindictive partisanship with which the deed was done, and the arbitrary, wanton, and unfair mode of procedure, were so apparent on the whole face of it,—the utter disregard of the independence of the judicial department, manifested by the perpetrators of the act, so palpably tended to the utter degradation of the bench into a mere political machine to be managed by the party in power, —we say these things were so apparent to intelligent, observing men, that the whole proceeding is condemned by very many of the conservative, rightful members of the party in power It has been freely denounced by such men, as an unjust and groundless attack upon an honest Judge, and as a most dangerous and fatal assault upon the independence of the Judiciary

Judge Davis was, indeed, removed because his appointment was made by a Republican Governor and because he made a decision not agreeable to the political party, which now degrades the State by its administration of the government. This was the real motive which induced the political caucus at Augusta to pledge every partisan member of the Legislature (with two or three honorable exceptions) to remove the judge and to impose this pledge before hearing the word of defence, and without the shadow of a trial! We did not believe, however, that the organs of the party in power would be so entirely reckless as to acknowledge and avow the motives which actuated the leaders in the most infamous outrage But so it is.

In regard to this removal, and the future action upon it a cotemporary well says that, whether the matter reaches the Supreme Court or not, no earthly power can keep it from the deliberation and decision of the people. He may have decided erroneously, the letter of the Statutes may not have been transgressed in his removal—but the motives, the methods and the effects of the deed cannot escape the severest ordeal of the masses Party excuses will not serve the perpetrators—the question will swell beyond all party proportions. It will be seen to deal directly with the sacredness of our judiciary, and through that with the vital rights and safety of every citizen If the very fountains of justice are to be drugged by partisan hands, no virtue in the other departments can counteract the poison This is the feeling of every honest and thoughtful man The consideration and the discussion have begun, and the more they prevail the more brilliantly will the great principles of our government shine in contrast with its foul deed, and work out its reprobation The very necessity of public virtue involves this result and we expect the latter as confidently as we rely upon the former

THE BOSTON FIRE—THE STEAM FIRE ENGINES At the recent burning of the German Market Building, on Sudbury St., Boston, the "Mike Greenwood," a new fire engine was brought into play, after some delay, and threw an enormous quantity of water,—playing two powerful streams through 1¾ inch nozzles, for ten consecutive hours, with scarcely any cessation It is said that with a sufficient quantity of hose she would have played four streams with equal ease The Boston Journal says

Such was her throw, and she made such unmistakable shrouds upon the quantity of water in the reservoir that it was determined to gratify her appetite to the fullest extent Accordingly, water from three or four hydrants was poured through open leading hose into the reservoir and kept constantly running in order to feed her capacious maw

The loss by this fire was nearly $200 000—it being the most destructive conflagration in Boston since the great fire on Battery wharf The Market Building was a brick structure six stories high, and so constructed that the firemen were afraid to enter it with their hose—and as the fire took in the topmost story, it could not be reached until it had burned down to the fourth story The attic was occupied by a Miss E Boyle, who employed sixty seamstresses in the manufacture of clothing for wholesale houses. She had 3000 pairs of pantaloons just completed—partly insured by the owners. The building was owned by George W Gerrish of Chelsea—valued at $100,000—insured for one half

A SLAVE TRADER PARDONED Capt. Charles Kerman, who, in the Summer of 1854 was sentenced in Boston to pay a fine of $1000 and be imprisoned in the County Jail three years, for being concerned in the fitting out of a vessel for the slave trade, has received an unconditional pardon from President Pierce

The committee on elections in the house have decided that Mr Fuller, of Maine, the sitting member, was duly elected over Mr Millikan, and recommended that the latter receive per diem and mileage from the commencement of the session.

MAPLE CANDY —Samuel E. Perkins has just received his second lot of Farmington Maple Candy, which is pure, fresh and nice.

The coalition Legislature which has recently adjourned was in session 100 days, at a cost to the State of about $100. The session was 28 days longer than that of 1855, and if measured by the amount of partisan, mischievous and reckless legislation performed, it is without any parallel in the History of the State. The passage of the Act for the Establishment of Tippling houses and for the Spread of Intemperance, and the Act for the Subversion of the Judiciary will alone confer an immortality of disgrace upon the Legislature of 1856. These were, in fact, the measures which drew out the session to its unusual length. From ten to fifteen thousand dollars of the people's money was drawn from a nearly exhausted treasury to pay for maturing such acts as the above, and for the arduous and protracted labors of secret caucuses in bringing up reluctant party men to their support

[The two acts referred to bear different titles from the above, but the names we have given them more truly indicate their effect]

OPENING OF NAVIGATION —The ebb tide of yesterday afternoon started the ice round High Head, and she down through the Narrows, and brought down the jam from above Penobscot Bridge We understood last evening that it had gone through below At all events this morning the tide will be likely to clear it all out Last year the ice cleared finally on the night of the 14th of April, and the steamer Gen. Knox came up to our wharves on the morning of the 15th The opening of the river is some days earlier than that year then was anticipated — The snow has melted gradually and without prodromic any freshet of consequence in the river, and there has been no loss of logs

THE COOLEY TRADE —An investigation into the abuses of the cooley trade by American vessels has been moved in Congress It is said that infamous deception is used by masters of vessels on others in procuring the emigration of Chinese laborers to the Chincha islands, to South America, Cuba and elsewhere,—that they are subjected to all the horrors of the slave trade during their transportation across the ocean,—and that they are disposed of in such a manner as to make their condition little better than that of actual slaves If these allegations are well founded, the business should be put under the ban of the law, as the African Slave trade now is.

It will be recollected that we published an article in relation to this subject last week

ENORMOUS IMPORTATIONS. The foreign goods brought into the port of New York, during the first week in April, amounted to the value of $6,200,000, against $1,950,000 for the corresponding week of last year, and $2 800,000 for the corresponding week of 1854 The Express considers that the reign of extravagance, which was checked by the events of 1854, is again re opening

The time given is understood to be 70 days from the 15th of this month.

There is to be a consultation at the White House on the subject of Nicaragua, and her recognition by this country, which will be attended by a few of the leading members of both branches of Congress. FIRE IN THOMASTON. About one o'clock, last Friday morning, a two story dwelling house in the city, near the line of South Thomaston, owned by Mr John Porter, was discovered to be on fire, and before any assistance could be obtained, was completely consumed The fire is supposed to have originated in the second story. A portion of the furniture was saved. The loss is estimated at $2,000. Insurance about $1500.—Rockland Gaz.

SKETCHES AND ADVENTURES IN MADEIRA, PORTUGAL, AND THE AUDALUSIAN MOUNTAINS OF SPAIN By the author of Daniel Wise and his Cotemporaries New York Harper & Brothers, 1856

We have, in this volume, a graphic account of some parts of the world comparatively little known to American travellers and the book being well written and discriminating in its facts, will be the more cordially welcomed of this account. There is much valuable information to be derived from it The author treats particularly upon Andalusia or Southern Spain which none of the late writers before written upon that country have done to any extent.

This work, by the well known and able author-ess above named, is issued in a neat style and is described as "a system of physiology, divested of all needless technics," and comprehensive —interesting for children to study, and for their parents to read, Calisthenics is the name of a course of exercises designed to promote health, and thus to secure beauty and strength The name is derived from two Greek words signifying these two qualities

AT HOME AND ABROAD, or Things and Thoughts in America and Europe By Margaret Fuller Ossoli. Edited by her brother Arthur B fuller Boston Crosby, Nichols & Co. 1856

The Countess d Ossoli, an American by birth, and also by residence until a short period before her marriage at Rome, which was soon followed by the sad termination of her life, just as she had again reached the shores of her own country, was well known as one of the most gifted of our female writers She possessed genius, and a soul thoroughly devoted to intellectual freedom and the welfare of the human race That portion of her writings contained in the present volume is divided into two parts The first is entitled "Summer on the Lakes 2nd, "Things and Thoughts in Europe" 3d, "Letters from Abroad to Friends at Home" 4th Homeward Voyage and Memorials" Her brother, in his introductory remarks says

Twelve years ago she journeyed in company with several friends, on the Lake, and some of the Western States. published a volume describing this journey, which seems worthy of republication It seems so because it rather gives an idea of Western life and character, than enters into gushing sentiments which would be all ere now

The second part of the present volume gives many sister impressions and observations during her European journey and residence in Italy Thus is done thro ghl etters, which originally appeared in the New York Tribune, but have never before been gathered into book form

Madame Ossoli was in Rome during the most eventful period of its modern history She was almost the only American who remained there during the Italian Revolution, and the siege of the city Her marriage with the Marquis Ossoli, who was Captain of the Civic Guard and active in the republican councils and army, and her own ardent love of freedom, and sacrifices for it brought her into immediate acquaintance with the leaders in the revolutionary army, and made her cognizant of their plans, their motives, and the characters, Unsuccessful for a time as has been that struggle for freedom, it was yet a noble one, and its true history should be known in this country and in all lands, that justice may be done to those who sacrificed much some even life, in behalf of liberty

Dr M F Bonzard, of New Orleans, communicates to the Bulletin of that city, the following interesting electrical experiment, by which he explains the philosophy of water-spouts and whirlwinds From the conductor of an electrical machine suspend by a wire or chain, a small metallic ball, (one of wood covered with tinfoil,) and under the ball place a rather wide metallic basin, containing some oil of turpentine, at the distance of about three-quarters of an inch If the handle of the machine be now turned slowly, the liquid in the basin will begin to move in different directions, and form whirlpools As the electricity on the conductor accumulates, the troubled liquid will elevate itself in the center, and at last become attached to the ball Draw off the electricity from the conductor to let the liquid resume its position, a portion of the turpentine remains attached to the ball Turn the handle again very slowly, and observe now the few drops adhering to the ball assume a conical shape, with the apex downward, while the liquid under it assumes also a conical shape, with the apex upward, until both meet. As the liquid does not accumulate on the ball, there must necessarily be at least a current downward as well as upward, giving the column of liquid a rapid circular motion, which continues until the electricity from the conductor is nearly all discharged silently, or until it is discharged by a spark, descending into the liquid The same phenomena takes place with oil or water. Using the latter liquid, the ball must be brought much nearer, or a much greater quantity of electricity is necessary to raise it Those who have had occasion to observe the sublime phenomenon of a water-spout will at once perceive in the experiment a faithful miniature representation of the gradual formation, progress, and breaking up of that grand phenomenon

Ship Martha Burgess, abandoned on the voyage from New York to Martinique, was a good vessel of 118 tons, owned by Messrs. Wetherly & Co., of Cassno Her cargo, consisting of flour, provisions, &c., valued at about $6000, and was fully insured in New York, as well as her freight money, about $600.

Sch Miss Ann, of Tremont, Me, before reported abandoned, while on the passage from Jacksonville for Boston, and drew carried to N York by steamer Illinois, was fallen in with 4th inst., lat. 32 25, lon. 72¼: had her foremast and bowsprit, and her boat and both anchors were gone.

A Yankee has just invented a suspender that convinces us yours approach to water, so that the moment you come to a puddle it lifts you over and drops you on the opposite side.

Of all men suddenly, sharply and remorselessly killed, commend us to Mr Buchanan— Nothing could have finished him more decisively than the publication of his letter to Senator Slidell. It was the unkindest, cruellest, most unfriendly cut that ever was In the confidence of friendship, he sends to a Southern gentleman one of those little private assurances, which he intended to use with good effect in the canvass, and which, if they are not private, are certainly fatal And while the Northern friends of the Pennsylvania trimmer are talking big, and denouncing Southern insolence the Union style prints Mr Buchanan a confidential, correspondence, and shows that however independent his friends may be, he is himself the meanest of lickspittles These words sound harshly, but we use them advisedly A man who can boast, in one breath, that "he labored in company with Southern men to have the Missouri Compromise line extended to the Pacific Ocean and who can then sustain a measure which abolishes the Compromise line forever, does not deserve to be spoken of softly At any rate, the free intelligent North now understands this Mr Buchanan, and he will hardly trouble us in the Presidential election

And why should he? In this contest we want at least men of sincerity Let us have candidates who fully represent the opinions of Democrats. It is not for us to advise the Democratic party, but if it is to be the party of slavery extension, if it means to sell itself, body, soul and spirit to the South, let it take a Southern man like Orr, or a Northern individual like Douglas These are earnest times, what have we to do with toad eating triflers? what have we to do with Buchanan? Mr Van Buren used to be famous for his crooked, devious, dubious answers but they were all straight, plain and to the purpose, compared with Mr Buchanan's The New York Herald publishes his opinion of the Nebraska bill in 1854, in such a shambling expression can be called an opinion He says he does not see what good the bill will do the South, he should have objected to its introduction but being introduced, he thinks he should have voted for it Such suffering and tergiversation are productive only of nausea.—Atlas.

SINGULAR PRESENTIMENT —Meeting an acquaintance to day, (Monday, March 17) we remarked that we were gratified to see him alive and safe; that we felt some apprehension lest he might have been on board the steamboat that was burned on Saturday The gentleman addressed resides in Camden, and does business in this city. In reply to this remark we received the following singular statement.

"I was walking, said our friend, down to the Walnut street wharf, in company with a gentleman who resides in Camden, intending to pass over on the New Jersey," the boat that was burned. As we approached the wharf, my companion stopped suddenly and said, "For some reason I do not like to cross over on that boat Still we went on, until we had reached the wharf, and were about stepping on the boat, when the same remark was repeated for the third time, and with so much earnestness, that without an apparent or imaginable reason, we turned back and walked a considerable distance to another boat.

Incidents like this often occur Some men call it superstition to give the least heed to these mysterious admonitions, and yet who will not say that the protecting hand of a merciful Providence does not sometimes in this way, snatch us from impending danger?

In the case how referred to, the boat from which those gentlemen thus turned away without any apparent reason, was in a few minutes after enveloped in flames —New Church Herald.

[From the Concord Reporter (Edmund Burke's paper) April 11]

GOV. FREMONT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE —We may as well here state what we believe to be the intention of those who are opposed to the Administration, and what they will endeavor to accomplish in the coming Presidential election One thing is evident they will support no man for President unless he is an avowed supporter of the principles of the non extension of slavery party No Union man of the Southern interpretation of the phrase will receive their votes They are united, determined and unchangeable.

Whoever the candidate of the North American Republicans may be, we can with no degree of certainty predict but we think so can imagine from the general feeling of favoritism expressed in the papers we have read for the last two months, that John C Fremont stands a better chance of the nomination than any other man His name is familiar to every one—his undeniable exertions over the mountains and the prairies of Oregon and California have been read with interest everywhere He is a free territory man in every sense of the word and should he be elected to that office—the highest in honor, the most responsible and the most powerful known to man upon the surface of the globe—he will truly carry out those principles. Of unstained and reputation, of a high order of intellect and an expansive mind, he has within him the very elements of success.

The Rev Mr. Barham, author of the famous "Ingoldsby Legends, used to tell a story of the complete discomfiture of a wit of no inferior order by a message politely delivered at a supper party by a little girl. Below we place some comments of a Boston paper concerning a new chemical medicine, which seems to be taking a good deal of attention:

Arnold's Globules and Vital Fluid—Their Process of Action.—They neutralize poisons in the blood by giving it Hydrogen and Oxygen—the elements of pure fresh air; and they supply vitality in like manner by their chemical agency The human system is entirely composed of chemical elements, and when the vital principle of health is wanting, something to again supply the system with it is required Chemical power is needed to restore the lacking chemical element. The Globules and Vital Fluid afford it amply, by giving the elements of pure air to the blood They have like properties, with exception that in the Fluid the cathartic power is absent and a laxative is substituted, and a greater degree of alterative power is imused —Yankee Blade,

Sewing Machines.

To Clothiers, Tailors, &c.

NOW IS THE TIME, during the dull season and before the hurry of business, to introduce the Sewing Machines An investment of $125, in a Sewing Machine will procure more clear profit than a much larger sum invested in any other way Having settled all suits against our Machines, there is not a shadow of claim against them The Excelsior and Dorcas machines, both infringing our patent, we have prosecuted in the United States Court, having jury trials in separate Courts, and we have come out triumphantly Next the Wheeler & Wilson, and the Grover & Baker, are expected to come on this month We therefore caution the public not to purchase or use any of the infringing Machines, if they desire to escape litigation, for we shall claim our rights I M SINGER & CO

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 7 State Street, opposite Kilby St.

BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1837, offers to inventors the present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by other agencies, from the fact that his arrangements, whereby, on application prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him, will in thirty days after the rejection

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere.

The testimonials below given prove that a note is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate the largest collection of specifications and official documents relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary in the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There are few, if any, persons having as thorough a practice in such business before the Patent Office, and these persons whom he conducted it with more ability, fidelity, and success. I say so of Mr. Eddy as one of the most informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and have a probability of getting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

[From the present Commissioner.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules or practice of the Office; and is one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY

For a Marvellous Age!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!!

The Grand External Remedy.

By the aid of a microscope we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies.—Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, Sorethroats of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthmas, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes through boiled or roast of any thickness.—This healing Ointment as far more readily penetrates through any kind of fleshy part of the living body, curing the most deep-seated inward complaints, that cannot be reached by internal means.

Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and Scorbutic Humors.

No remedy has ever been done so much for the cure of diseases of the skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Salt Rheum, Sores, Sore Head, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when healing to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumors. Professor Holloway has, by command of the Allied Governments, despatched to the hospitals of the East, large consignments of this Ointment, to be used under the direction of the Medical Staff, in the worst cases of wounds, glandular swelling, kindness, contraction of the joints, or scrofulous sores, it will cure any ulcer, stiffness of the neck, stamping.

Piles and Fistula.

These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if this Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles
Burns,	Inflammation
Chapped Hands	Salt Rheum
Chilblains	Skin Diseases
Fistulas	Sore Breasts
Gout	Sore Throats
Lumbago	Sore Heads
Mercurial Eruptions	Sore Legs
	Sores of all kinds
	Sprains
	Scalds
	Swelled Glands
	Stiff Joints
	Ulcers
	Venereal Sores
	Wounds of all kinds

*.*Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers of Medicines throughout the United States and the civilized world, in Pots, at 25 cts, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

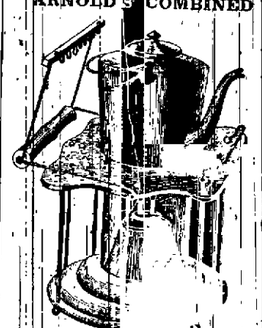
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN, —AND— NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES has now purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose; as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset; or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put can be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

IS A CERTAIN SAFE AND RELIABLE REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Dropsy, Weakness, Nervousness, Gravel, Pain in the Back, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, from whatever cause arising.

MALE OR FEMALE

No Matter of How Long Standing

This popular remedy is unequalled by any other in the world, as a solvent and diuretic. In addition to the affections for which it is recommended above, it will be found to be a most valuable remedy in all diseases of the bladder, kidneys, and urinary passages, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Even after the most eminent physicians have failed, and the patient has been given up to die, the use of this remedy has in many instances been followed by immediate improvement, and in a short time by a perfect cure. Numerous letters are received by the proprietor from persons who have been cured after all other remedies had failed, and who are willing to certify to the above statements. Many of the most distinguished physicians of the country have given their certificates in favor of this remedy, after having tested its virtues in their own practice, and in many cases have prescribed it in preference to any other remedy known to the profession. Many of the most eminent apothecaries and druggists have also given certificates of its superior excellence
